To Whom It May Concern:

I have had the privilege of working with Graden Grandison at Robert F. Hall Catholic Secondary School for the past four years in my role as Department Head of Academic Resource and Guidance. It has been a pleasure getting to know him and watching him progress successfully through his high school career. In the time that I have known him, he has displayed many strengths.

Graden is a self-starter who assesses the requirements of his studies and effectively plans and responds accordingly. He is a methodical worker who completes tasks independently once the expectations have been established. He is committed and dedicated to the learning environment and to fulfilling his responsibilities in the classroom. He approaches his work with willingness and cooperation and shows a genuine interest in his courses. His aspirations are in the Health Sciences, with the goal of being a medical doctor. His interests lie in Epidemiology and Gastroenterology. In these fields, he hopes to do humanitarian work and assist third world communities in their treatments for disease outbreaks and epidemics. With his exemplary academic performance and commitment, I know that he will achieve these goals.

Graden has had excellent attendance throughout his high school career and has always been prompt to the classroom. This reflects both his integrity to his studies and a genuine courtesy towards his teachers.

Graden has contributed in many ways to our school community. He was a valuable member of the school's football team, as well as participating in a league outside of school. In his position as lineman, he supported his teammates and enjoyed their comradery. As well, Graden completed leadership training in order to assist with Gr. 8 students transitioning to high school. At this orientation program, his gentle, honest and accepting personality shone as an example for the younger male students as he directed them throughout their retreat.

To Know, To Love, To Serve God

Graden was a member of the Robert F. Hall Book Club for four years. He read all ten books every year and always contributed so much to the discussion. He is such a positive member of any group and a role model for younger students.

Graden was also a member of our Student Council for the past two years. In his role as grade representative, he regularly led our Fun Friday events in the cafeteria which included gaming technology set-up and organization of teams. He was also this year's Audio Visual representative and Student Council Treasurer.

Having known Graden over the last four years, I have always found him to be an extremely polite, mature, and respectful young man. He has a friendly manner and a positive attitude which is reflected in our interactions. His pleasant disposition and reflective demeanour are qualities that are revealed in his interactions with others. It cannot be overstated the kindness with which Graden treats anyone who crosses his path.

Sincerely,

SCronin
